

Nail Polish Putty Smoothing

I heard about this at a model show. For filling and sanding small seams use nail polish.

I use the cheapest stuff I can find at Walmart. (Hint: don't spill it)

You putty the model seam as you typically would...

Once you have the putty where you want it, immediately dip a q-tip in the nail polish and rub it back and forth along the seam. After a few swipes the seam will be clean and smooth, no sanding needed.
